Con Corazón Outreach Report

20th May 2026 – Marampaqui

Celestino Quispe arrived at our medical center in Marampaqui at 4:00 in the morning, after walking for three hours from his community in the north. He came seeking medical attention for persistent stomach problems and back pain. Despite his health difficulties and the long, demanding journey, Celestino found the strength and determination to reach our medical center.

His arrival deeply touched our team. We admired his courage, perseverance, and strong will to seek the care he needed, even when the journey was difficult and exhausting. For people living in remote communities, reaching a healthcare facility can require tremendous effort and sacrifice.

Celestino's story reminds us why our work in these communities is so important. Every patient who arrives at our center represents a person who has made an effort to access care. We are committed to honoring Celestino's visit by welcoming him with dignity, compassion, and respect, and by providing him with the medical attention and treatment he deserves. At the end we managed to get him a car to drive him back home.
